Title: On Solving a Curious Inequality of Ramanujan
Author(s): Mr Adrian Dudek
Session: Number Theory

In one of his notebooks, Ramanujan penned a curious inequality regarding the distribution of the prime numbers. Moreover, he stated that the inequality will hold for all sufficiently large numbers. In this talk, the speaker will introduce and prove this inequality, before discussing his recent joint work with Dave Platt (University of Bristol) on this problem.